

Making Sentences More Interesting

Sentences can be made more interesting by adding verbs, adjectives and adverbs.

- Noun - a naming word (e.g. cat, house, bed)
- Verb - a doing word (e.g. run, talk, eat)
- Adjective - a describing word (e.g. huge, green, polite)
- Adverb - a word that describes a verb (e.g. quickly, slowly, happily)

Try adding but, because or and to make the sentence longer.

Make these short, simple sentences more interesting. You can replace the boring words with more interesting ones.

1) I like cakes.

I love eating delicious cakes slowly, but I am only allowed them after I have finished my lunch.

2) I went to the park.

3) My friend is called Anita.

4) The girl went to the shop.

5) The boy screamed.

6) The house is big.

7) The dog barked.

8) The wolf blew the house down.

9) When the bears came home, they found the door left open.

10) Jack got told off.

Underline the nouns, verbs, adjectives and adverbs. Choose a different colour for each type of word.
